Ms Lewen and Team,

On behalf of my fellow incarcerated, thank you for the wonderful gift bags. From my perspective, their impact on the population here in West Block was certainly positive and a mood-elevator which made for a brilliant day-brightener.

What a massive undertaking it must have been to procure, assemble and distribute all the supplies for this project. And, not to be overlooked: Gaining approval from Warden Broomfield, Coordinating staff and volunteer labor, and the incredible, wonderful people bringing it all together. I, for one, am impressed and immensely grateful for the collective efforts of all involved. Again, thank you for your gifts of kindness.

As a student in the College Program at San Quentin I hold tremendous respect for those who commit to contributing their valuable time and professional skills as volunteers and staff in bringing San Quentin's incarcerated population such a tremendous opportunity for challenging educational enrichment. Know that P.U.P. is making a difference in people's lives.

In my (long) lifetime I have never known the level of support, nor seen so many people genuinely interested in the rehabilitation of a class of peoples as is provided through the collective efforts of the College Program. Ms. Lewen, you and your team are truly remarkable people and are to be commended for your works.

Now, as we are lying at bay, can you work your magic so we can get back to programming?

With warm regards

Elton Kelley
