To Whom It May Concern,

Thank you for the care package you guys put together for us. It was on time and let us know that someone out there is thinking about us. The enclosed articles were informative and good reading. Yes, these are unique and unprecedented times for us. Only time will tell how much longer this will last. According to recent numbers, as parts of the nation open up, the numbers are again rising. It is possible that because of the testing being done in more places, that is why the numbers are up. This mentioned because it will indicate and potentially require the country shuts back down again to get a handle on it. Emotionally as well as economically, this may not be something that is feasible for many.

I am writing to you because your letter stated if anything is needed, reach out to you. I am scheduled to go to the Board of Parole Hearings (BPH) on August 28, 2020 at 8:30am. This is a "reconsideration hearing" for me as I was violated for my parole. Because I was an inmate sentenced to 15-life, my parole requires that if a violation occurs, I have to return to the BPH to be released again. I came at age 20 and paroled at age 45, September 2016, stayed "free" 2 1/2 years and now back on this "technical" violation. "Technical" means I violated a condition of my parole, which in this instance was a new conviction, it being "Disturbing the Peace" PC 415.2.

During my time out, I took the electrical union's exam for the Local 337 and Local 6 IBEW in Santa Clara and San Francisco respectively. Passed both the written exam and oral interview then

Yes, please share this if you would like. I am praying to be released again and get back to work. I have many employable skills and a dedicated worker that if you spoke with anyone in management at Charist, it would be attested to. I came to work everyday and whatever overtime was there, I worked. I am bilingual (Spanish), computer literate, responsible, and sincere - just to name a few. I will be living in San Francisco if an employer is looking for a valuable and dedicated employee!

Thank you for taking the time to read this and I look forward to hearing back from you one way or the other. May you and your loved ones stay safe and healthy out there. Mask up, wash hands, and maintain social distancing whenever possible.

Sincerely,
